National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology, Terms of Use for the Shared High-Performance Computer, ABCI

Established as of July 18, 2018
Final amendment as of August 28, 2020

(Scope of Terms)

Article 1 These terms apply wherein a Research Unit uses AI Bridging Cloud Infrastructure (hereinafter, referred to as “ABCI”), a shared high-performance computer operated by the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology (hereinafter, referred to as the “Institute”) after applying for a user registration, as well as those accompanying services (use of ABCI and its accompanying service shall collectively be called “ABCI Service”), in accordance with Management Guidelines for the shared high-performance computer (Guideline 30-11).

In case of organizations outside of the Institute using ABCI Service, after going through an application for user registration and paying usage fees corresponding to ABCI Point, the Contract of Use for the shared high-performance computer, ABCI, of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology, applies instead of these terms.

2 The user guide and other rules relating to ABCI services provided by the Institute on the Institute website shall form part of this Agreement.

(Definitions)

Article 2 In these terms, “Supervisory User” shall mean a responsible person among those who belong to a research unit of the Institute assigned to use ABCI Service.

2 In these terms, “User Administrator” shall mean a person who administrates Users under a Supervisory User.

3 In these terms, “User” shall mean a person who makes use of ABCI Service after obtaining an account from the Institute among those who are designated by a Supervisory User.

4 In these terms, “Users” shall collectively mean the Supervisory User, User Administrator, and Users.

5 In these terms, “User Group” shall mean an aggregation of Users, such as the Supervisory User, User Administrator, and all Users who use ABCI Service for a specific type of research.

6 In these terms, “Executives and Staff” shall mean executive officers, regular staff, and contract staff of the Institute.

7 In these terms, “Executives and Staff, etc.” shall mean those who engage in business on behalf of the Institute but are not categorized as Executives and Staff.

8 In these terms, “ABCI Administrator” shall mean a person who is assigned by the Institute to be in charge of ABCI’s management.

9 In these terms, “ABCI Operator” shall mean a person who is assigned by the ABCI Administrator to operate ABCI.

10 In these terms, “ABCI Points” shall mean a unit given to a research unit by the Institute that is to be managed by the User Group. It is deducted according to use of service, such as a computational resource, etc., by the Users.

11 In these terms, “Intellectual Property Rights” shall mean rights specified in Article 2 of the Employees’ Invention Regulations of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology (Regulation 13-26, hereinafter, referred to as “Employees’ Invention Regulations”), copyrights specified in the Copyright Act (Act No. 48 of May 6, 1970), rights corresponding to those specified in the aforesaid rights in foreign countries, and others specified in laws concerning intellectual properties or rights concerning profits legally protected by laws.

12 In these terms, “Confidential Information” shall mean technical information and other information concerning business, not categorized into technical information, of the Institute or Users. that have been disclosed to the other party by any document, or any magnetic record (including reproduction), or orally, designated as confidential at the time of disclosure, or being noticed as confidential with disclosed contents specified in writing within 30 days after disclosure. However, such information as applies to any following item is not considered Confidential Information, including information that:

- (i) is publicly known at the time of disclosure by the Institute or Users or becomes public without any reason attributable to the other party;
- (ii) is rightfully obtained from a third party under no obligation of confidentiality;
- (iii) can be proven in writing to have been in the other party’s possession at the time of disclosure;
- (iv) can be proven in writing to have been independently created, not owing to disclosure of the said information by the other party;
- (v) is independently created on his/her own not owing to information disclosed and designated as confidential by the other party after the time of disclosure;
- (vi) is approved in writing by the Institute or Users to disclose;
- (vii) is legally required to be disclosed subject to the demand of law or court.

13 In these terms, “Personal Information of Users” shall mean personal information regarding Users and that specified in Article 2 of the “Protection of Personal Information Regulations of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology” (Regulation 27-87, hereinafter referred to as “Protection of Personal Information Regulations”).

14 In these terms, “Inventions” shall mean those specified in Article 2-7 of the Employees’ Invention Regulations.

15 In these terms, “Data of Users” shall mean programs, as well as data required for calculation and learning, and those results saved in ABCI memory during use of ABCI by Users.

16 In these terms, “Operational Data” shall mean three types of information, consisting of “File Information,” “Use Information,” and “Performance Information,” secondarily generated through use of ABCI by Users. Among these, “File Information” shall mean such file information in which Data of Users are stored as file size, creation date, revision date, and the like; “Use Information” shall mean information concerning how Users use ABCI (types and amounts of resources and programs used); and “Performance Information” shall mean information concerning program performance (CPU, GPU, utilization factor of memory, and others.)

17 In these terms, “Home Area” shall mean a storage area provided exclusively for Users along with use of ABCI Service for no additional charge.

18 In these terms, “Group Area” shall mean a storage area provided exclusively for the User Group accompanying use of ABCI Service for an additional charge.

19 In these terms, "Joint Research" shall mean joint research specified in Article 1 of Rules on the Joint Research of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology (Rule No. 13-22; hereinafter referred to as "Joint Research Rules").

20 In these terms, "Visiting Researcher" shall mean a visiting researcher specified in Article 2 of Rules for Visiting Researchers of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology.

21 In these terms, "Fixed-Term Employee on specific assignment" shall mean a fixed-term employee on specific assignment in Article 4-2 of Rules of Employment for Fixed-Term Employees of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology.

22 In these terms, "Indirect Cost" shall mean indirect cost specified in Article 5 of Procedures on Research Expenses Calculation of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology.

23 In these terms, "Research Unit" shall mean the organizations specified by the followings:

- (i) Organizations specified in Article 6-3-2, 6-3-3 and 6-3-4, of the Organization Rules of the Institute of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology,
- (ii) Offices, Research Groups and Research Teams specified under the above Organizations, and
- (iii) Open Innovation Laboratory and Cooperative Research Laboratories as specified in Article 3 in the Organization Regulations (Rule 26-6) of the Institute of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology.

(Purpose)

Article 3 The Institute shall promote its research results by providing researchers with ABCI Service, a large-scale, high speed, and most advanced computation system suitable for artificial intelligence research and thereby promoting artificial intelligence research in Japan and accelerate its social implementation.

(Qualifications)

Article 4 In order for Users to use ABCI Service, they must not act against the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act (Act No. 228 of December 1, 1949), cabinet ordinances, ministerial ordinances, circular notices, or the like concerning security trade export control grounded on the Act (hereinafter referred to as “Security Trade Export Control Laws”), as well as the Security Trade Export Control Regulations of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology, and other rules grounded on the Regulations (hereinafter referred to as “Security Trade Export Regulations), and must be a resident residing within Japan; Provided, however, that this shall not apply to non-residents as long as the Institute permits them to use ABCI Service within the coverage of Security Trade Export Control Laws.

2 The term “Resident” specified in the preceding clause shall mean a person who is applicable under one of the following items:

- (i) is a Japanese national and resides in Japan;
- (ii) is a Japanese national and serves for the Overseas Diplomatic Establishment in Japan;
- (iii) is a foreign national and works for an office located in Japan;
- (iv) is a foreign national and has spent six months or more in Japan after entry.

(User Registration Application)

Article 5 For those who hope to use ABCI Service, a Supervisory User candidate shall be selected in the User Group among the Executives and Staff or the executives and employees in the partner entity of the joint research contract. Moreover, said Supervisory User candidate shall fill out the “ABCI User Registration Application Form” (Form No. 1 in the attached sheet), designated by the ABCI Administrator, or the application screen displayed on the Institute’s website (hereinafter, collectively referred to as “Application Form”), and then submit said Application Form in written or electronic format to the ABCI Administrator for User Registration Applications.

2 The Supervisory User candidate shall confirm whether all Users come under clause 1 of the preceding article at the point of application.

3 The ABCI Administrator shall notify a research unit of acceptance of its application only when he/she judges that all the requirements described in each item as follows are fulfilled by means of the ABCI User Answer Form (hereinafter referred to as “Answer Form”):

- (i) the purpose of use shall be for research and development;
- (ii) use of service shall not infringe on the promotion of public welfare, nor public or national interests;
- (iii) use of service shall not hinder business of the Institute;
- (iv) users described in the Application Form shall not be likely to act against the rules specified in each item of Article 15-1;
- (v) the Supervisory User candidate shall have carried out confirmation of all Users specified in the preceding clause;
- (vi) users shall not act against Security Trade Export Control Laws, Regulations, or the like;
- (vii) the Supervisory User candidate shall transcribe correct information on the Application Form without omission;

(viii) other than specified in each preceding item, no special reasons exist for the use to be rejected.

- 4 The ABCI Administrator may request a Supervisory User candidate to assign one or more User Administrators to manage Users.
- 5 ABCI Administrator may ask Supervisory User candidate questions and request him/her to provide additional materials or ask a third party's opinions in order to confirm whether the requirements specified in each item of clause 3 are fulfilled.
- 6 The ABCI Administrator may commission creation of the Answer Form in clause 3 and a notification work process to an outsourcer, and Users shall approve it.
- 7 For an Application Form, the ABCI Administrator may require a Supervisory User candidate to make a pledge in written or electronic format.
- 8 The ABCI Administrator shall notify a research unit that its application has been rejected by means of the Answer Form in cases that any one of the requirements specified in clause 3 are not fulfilled.
- 9 A research unit may cancel its application for User Registration Application by notifying the ABCI Administrator to that extent up until the ABCI Administrator notifies the unit of acceptance of ABCI Service use by Answer Form.
- 10 Regardless of clauses 1 and 2, descriptions of a "User" on the Application Form to be submitted by a Supervisory User may be omitted as long as the ABCI Administrator approves it. In such cases, a User candidate (which shall be limited to Executives and Staff) shall directly fill out the User Registration Application in writing as designated by the ABCI Administrator (Form No. 2 in the attached sheet) and submit it in writing or transmit it in electronic format to the Institute. The ABCI Administrator may notify a research unit of approval of use by said User candidate, regardless of clause 3-(v).

(Cancellation and Suspension of User Registration Application)

- Article 6 The ABCI Administrator may cancel acceptance of use of ABCI Service by a research unit, or order a research unit to suspend the use of ABCI Service, as specified in clause 3 of the preceding Article, in the event that any requirement specified in any item in the preceding clause 3 is not fulfilled or any item in Article 15-1 is unsatisfied.
- 2 Regardless of those specified in the preceding clause, the ABCI Administrator may cancel acceptance of ABCI Service or suspend the use of said services as specified in clause 3 of the preceding Article in cases wherein the ABCI Administrator deems it required for management purpose. In such cases, the ABCI Administrator shall not have any obligation to disclose the reason for said cancellation or suspension.

(Change of User Registration Application)

- Article 7 In the event that any change occurs to the contents of the Application Form as submitted, based on the provision of Article 5, the Supervisory User shall notify the ABCI Administrator promptly of the details by means of the Notice of Change in User Registration Application (Form No. 3 at the attached sheet) provided by the ABCI Administrator.
- 2 The Supervisory User shall monitor the situations of Users and notify the User Administrator, if assigned, of any changes in affiliation or disqualification of a User, if it occurs on his/her own, or other relevant changes based on the preceding clause.
 - 3 The Institute shall not accept any liabilities for damages incurred to Users or a third party by delay or negligence in submitting a notice of change.

(Providing Service and Outsourcing)

- Article 8 The Institute may provide Users with ABCI Service as specified in each of the following items, and Users shall be able to make use of the service by way of accessing it via the internet or the like:
- (i) computational resources of ABCI;
 - (ii) software provided by the Institute;
 - (iii) support for using ABCI Service;
 - (iv) support for software installation carried out by Users;
 - (v) lecture classes on ABCI use and for software usable on ABCI;
 - (vi) any other services provided by the Institute.
- 2 Among software referred to in (ii) of the preceding clause, basic software necessary for ABCI use (OS, job control, coding environment, data transmission, etc.) is provided by the Institute.
 - 3 Among software necessary for ABCI use, acquisition of licensure and rights for receiving support for software other than that provided by the Institute as described in the preceding clause shall be carried out by Users and all associated costs shall be paid by Users.
 - 4 The Institute shall ensure continuity from inside the ABCI system to the outside connection point, and Users shall ensure external connection from the connection point prepared by the Institute to the Users point as the internet, etc.
 - 5 In the event that no seat is available in lecture classes as specified in item 5 of clause 1, Users may not be able to receive the service; however, the Institute shall not bear any liability nor provide any indemnification and compensation for them.
 - 6 The Institute may commission system operation and maintenance of ABCI Service to an outsourcer, and Users shall approve it.

(Home Area and Group Area)

- Article 9 The Institute shall provide each User with Home Area capacity as separately specified. It shall be the Users' responsibility to back up data stored in the Home Area provided by the Institute. The Institute shall not bear any liabilities for data loss due to unexpected system failure and the like. Moreover, the Institute shall not be liable for the lack of Home Area capacity for any reason attributable to Users.
- 2 The Institute shall provide each User Group with Group Area capacity up to the limit independently specified by an additional unit cost. It shall be the Users' responsibility to back up data stored in the Group Area provided by the Institute, and the Institute shall not bear any liability for data loss due to unexpected system failure. Moreover, the Institute shall not be liable for the lack of Group Area capacity for any reason attributable to Users.
 - 3 For each area described in the preceding clause, a limit may be set to the number and size of files which Users can save due to system limitation.

(Cancellation of Service)

Article 10 The ABCI Administrator shall be able to suspend ABCI Service in cases where:

- (i) the need arises due to maintenance, construction, relocation, etc. of facilities in the Institute;
- (ii) the Institute needs to take priority for operating ABCI for an emergency situation, such as if a natural disaster occurs or is likely to occur;
- (iii) telecommunication carriers suspend service within the Institute;
- (iv) the ABCI Administrator judges that ABCI Service should be suspended for any other rational reason.

2 In case that the ABCI Administrator suspends ABCI Service, the ABCI Administrator shall notify Users by way of appropriate manner as judged by the Institute (including but not limited to display on the website and/or email notification), provided, however, that this is not applied in the event of an emergency as described in items 2 or 3 of the preceding clause.

3 The ABCI Administrator shall not return usage fees of ABCI Points that were previously paid to a research unit, notwithstanding that the service was suspended as described in clause 1. Moreover, the ABCI Administrator shall not be legally liable for damages that Users incur due to service suspension nor provide any indemnification and compensation.

(Change of Service Details and Termination of Services)

Article 11 The ABCI Administrator shall be able to change a part of or the entire contents of ABCI Service at any time.

2 If the Institute determines that the continuation of the ABCI service is to be terminated, the Institute shall make three-month advanced notice (including, but not limited to, methods such as display on the website and notification by e-mail) for Users to transfer their own data, etc. to another storage area, and shall terminate the provision of ABCI services.

3 In case that the ABCI Administrator makes important changes to the contents of ABCI Service, the ABCI Administrator shall notify Users by way of appropriate manner as judged by the Institute (including but not limited to display on the website and/or email notification).

(Support for Use of ABCI Service)

Article 12 Support for use of ABCI Service shall be available from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on weekdays, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, holidays and New Year's holidays as prescribed by the Institute.

2 The support described in the preceding clause shall consist only of answering questions concerning use of ABCI Service.

3 Questions from Users shall be principally taken on a first-come, first-served basis, except when questions influencing more users may take priority. Moreover, response time may depend on the state of congestion and job load.

(ABCI Points)

Article 13 Usage fees, corresponding to ABCI Points required for the use of ABCI Service, shall be charged to a research unit completing a User Registration Application. In this process, the research unit shall be able to obtain ABCI Points which are managed by each User Group.

2 A research unit shall be able to acquire additional ABCI Points at any time by requesting Points from the ABCI Administrator. The fees for additional ABCI Points will be billed to a research unit at the beginning of every month after closing of the account at the end of the month in which the service was used.

3 The number of ABCI Points corresponding to the use of services such as use of computational resources will be deducted from those acquired by a User Group; when the balance reaches zero, Users are not allowed to use ABCI Service.

4 ABCI Points deducted according to the service used and the usage fee corresponding to those points will be separately assessed by the ABCI Administrator, who will post notice of such on the website under the administrator's control.

5 ABCI Points acquired by a User Group will lose effect at the end of March every year and cannot be carried over to the next year. However, in such cases that Users cannot use the ABCI Service until the last day of March, and the period of non-use exceeds 20 days owing to unavoidable circumstances, such as ABCI failure or a natural disaster, ABCI Points may be carried over to the next year.

6 Usage fees paid by a research unit for acquisition of ABC Points will not be refunded by the Institute under any circumstances.

7 The Institute may commission invoicing and collection of usage fees corresponding to ABCI Points to an outsourcer, and Users shall approve it.

8 A Researcher assigned to the Joint Research Agreement and has applied for the use of ABCI based on these terms may apply for free ABCI points to the ABCI Administrator when the accumulated ABCI points acquired in the relevant fiscal year (hereinafter referred to as "cumulative ABCI points") exceed the condition of Attached Table 1. However, the cumulative ABCI points used to calculate ABCI points shall expire when the ABCI points are awarded.

(Attribution of Results)

Article 14 Intellectual property rights which Users obtain by means of using ABCI Service shall be treated according to the "Employees' Invention Regulations of the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology" where the Users are Executives and Staff.

If another agreement exists between the ABCI Administrator and a research unit, rights shall be governed by that agreement.

(Rules for Users)

Article 15 Users shall not:

- (i) act against rules specified in these terms and those described in the Answer Form;
- (ii) use ABCI Service for purposes other than those described in the Application Form;
- (iii) perform acts that infringe upon or are likely to infringe upon any intellectual property rights or trademark rights of the Institute or a third party;
- (iv) perform acts that infringe upon or are likely to infringe upon any copyright, privacy, or portrait rights of the Institute or a third party;
- (v) falsify or erase electronic information of the Institute, including ABCI Points;
- (vi) develop harmful computer programs, such as viruses, etc;
- (vii) provide unauthorized access to the network, internet, or servers, etc. of the Institute connecting to the network above;
- (viii) perform acts that hinder or are likely to hinder providing ABCI Service;
- (ix) perform acts that violate or are likely to violate laws;

- (x) create a significant nuisance, including a social behavior, for other Users and/or third parties;
 - (xi) perform any other acts that the Institute judges to be inappropriate for any user of ABCI Service
- 2 The Supervisory User shall manage Users' state of use and provide them guidance as to follow all rules specified in these terms.

3 The Supervisory User shall report the state of use of service to the ABCI Administrator upon his/her request.

(Account Management)

Article 16 For use of ABCI Service, Users shall have an ABCI account provided by the Institute and related to his/her effective corporate or institutional e-mail address. No personal e-mail addresses will be accepted.

2 Users shall not disclose his/her account information nor password provided by the Institute to a third-party without the express permission of the ABCI Administrator, and shall also maintain such information appropriately so that it is not easily guessed.

(Representations and Warranties for Data of Users)

Article 17 Users shall represent and warrant that his/her data does not violate any laws, and maintain responsibility for its development, contents, operation, maintenance, and use of such Data of Users.

(Security and Backup of Data of Users)

Article 18 Users make an oath that Data of Users is to be appropriately secured and protected, including providing security measures and saving it periodically.

2 Users operating the server with an IP address on the service network (experimental line) shall be responsible for their own security measures.

3 Users shall use ABCI by following information security implementation guidelines, according to the Institute's security measures.

4 In case that Executives and Staff accept an external network connection, they must apply for and receive approval from the ABCI Operator in advance.

(Compliance with Security Trade Export Control Laws)

Article 19 In case that Users intend to provide technology or export cargo that comes under Security Trade Export Control Laws, resulting from accompanied information from using ABCI Service, results gained from the use, or any other objects produced by the use of service, Users shall take responsibility for use while obeying Security Trade Export Control Laws.

(Publication of Facts or Results Made by Users)

Article 20 The Supervisory User shall notify the ABCI Administrator about the fact that Users used ABCI Service, except for Confidential Information, when they intended to make it public for scientific presentation, international conference, press release, etc.

2 The Supervisory User shall report use of ABCI Service by Users for writing a thesis, report, etc. (hereinafter, referred to as "Theses") in case that Users intend to make his/her research results public, provided, however, that this does not apply if the ABCI Administrator judges that no description is required for rational reasons and notifies the Supervisory User of this judgment.

(Installation of Software by Users)

Article 21 In using ABCI Service, Users may install software not provided by the Institute with acquisition of its license and the Institute's permission.

2 Software with licenses obtained by Users shall be installed in a storage area of the User Group at their own responsibility.

3 Users shall submit an information provision request to the ABCI Operator for obtaining necessary information on the acquisition of software licenses and installation of software. Moreover, the ABCI Operator shall provide them with information requested through said request form.

4 Users shall submit software installation requests that include software desired to be installed and related necessary work details to the ABCI Operator when Users install any software that requires the Institute to set up, such as for license file registration of ABCI servers. Moreover, the ABCI Operator shall carry out its registration based on the said request.

(Unauthorized Use)

Article 22 Users shall not be able to use ABCI Service after the duration described on the Answer Form elapses.

(No Assignment)

Article 23 Users shall not assign, transfer, or lease their rights and obligations for ABCI Service without prior written agreement from the ABCI Administrator.

2 In case of any assignment, transfer or lease made against the preceding clause, the Users shall be responsible for paying expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, to compensate for any damages to the Institute.

(Obligation for Compensation)

Article 24 In case that Users cause damage, disorder, or failures to ABCI due to intention or acting against rules specified in each item of Article 15-1, the Institute may claim payment for those damages from Users.

2 In case that a third party incurs damages due to or related to Users' use of ABCI Service, and that the third party claims those damages against the Institute, Users shall bear all costs and damages in place of the Institute.

(Handling Confidential Information)

Article 25 The Institute and Users shall keep Confidential Information that either party discloses (excluding Data of Users, as specified in Article 2) strictly confidential and shall not leak them to a third party without the other party's prior written consent.

2 The Institute and Users shall strictly manage Confidential Information by means of designating a responsible handler.

3 Users shall immediately notify the ABCI Administrator when creating Inventions with or including Confidential Information disclosed by the Institute. Moreover, the ABCI Administrator and the research unit shall discuss how to handle said Inventions.

4 The scope of Confidential Information that Users disclose to the Institute shall be minimized for the purpose of ABCI use.

(Handling Data of Users)

Article 26 The Institute shall take rational and appropriate measures to protect Data of Users from leakage, loss, or damage due to an accident or an illegal act.

2 The Institute shall not browse, refer to, or disclose Data of Users stored in ABCI to a third party without explicit consent of the Supervisory User, except in the following cases:

- (i) the Institute outsources operations to a third party in order to provide and maintain ABCI Service as an operational need arises. In such case, the Institute shall require an outsourcing contractor to follow the rules of handling Data of Users specified in these terms;
- (ii) the Institute, its Executives and Staff, etc. are legally required to disclose and provide Data of Users subject to the demand of law, judgment, decision, or ordinance by court or administrative organization, to said court or administrative organization. In such cases, the ABCI Administrator shall notify a research unit of the demand described above.

(Handling of Operational Data)

Article 27 The Institute may occasionally refer to File Information of Users in order to accomplish normal system operations.

2 The Institute may collect Use Information of Users and Performance Information in order to improve program performance and analyze user conditions, for the purposes of increasing convenience to Users and efficiency of system operations.

3 The Institute may make certain data public, such as Operational Data which does not include any personal identifiable information and statistical data for the purposes of promotion of technology development and contribution to science.

(Protection of Personal Information)

Article 28 The Institute shall manage personal information of Users, according to Personal Information Protection Rules.

(Confirmation of Use Condition)

Article 29 The Institute shall be able to confirm use conditions of ABCI Service by Users in order to calculate ABCI Points and usage fees for such services, provide Users with support services (in case of request), and manage ABCI.

(Job Cancellation)

Article 30 The Institute may execute job cancellation with prior notice to the Supervisory User if the Institute judges that provision of ABCI Service may be disrupted. In case of an emergency, the Institute may cancel jobs without prior notice to the Supervisory User.

(Band Control)

Article 31 The Institute may control bands assigned to communication by way of using the Institution's specified communication means if the Institute anticipates problems.

(Disclaimer)

Article 32 The Institute shall not bear any legal liabilities nor provide any indemnification or compensation for damages incurred to Users or third parties due to or associated with accidents and incidents caused by use of ABCI Service; provided, however, that this does not apply in cases that the Institute purposely brings about said accidents or incidents.

2 The Institute shall not bear any legal liabilities nor provide any indemnification or compensation for damages incurred to Users or third parties due to disorder, malfunction, or defect of ABCI (including but not limited to loss of Data of Users).

3 The Institute shall not bear any legal liabilities nor provide any indemnification or compensation for damages incurred to Users or third parties due to cancellation of use acceptance or suspension order of service use according to Articles 6-1 and 6-2.

4 In case that Users are charged with infringing on rights of a third party by use of ABCI, results from use of ABCI, or manufacturing and sales utilizing said results, Users shall resolve said disputes at their own expense and on their own responsibility. The Institute shall not bear any liabilities nor provide any indemnification and compensation.

5 In event that the Institute is liable for damages, the coverage shall be limited to direct and usual damages, not including profit loss, special damages, or indirect damages.

(Effective Term of Service)

Article 33 Provision of ABCI Service shall end by the term described in the Answer Form; provided, however, that Article 25 in these terms shall remain in full force for five (5) years from termination of use, and the provisions of Article 17, Article 23, Article 24, Article 32 and Article 35 shall remain valid after the end of the period of ABCI use.

(Termination of Providing Service Based on Attributional Requirements for Involvement with Organized Crime Group)

Article 34 The Institute may terminate ABCI Service to Users without any notice or demand if any of the following items applies:

- (i) Users belong to an organized crime group (as specified in Article 2-2 of the Act on the Prevention of Unjust Acts by Organized Crime Group Members (Act No. 77 of 1991); the same applies hereinafter) or are a member of it (shall mean a member specified in Article 2-6 of the same Act; the same applies hereinafter);
- (ii) Users rely on an organized crime group or its members for the purposes of making illicit gain for them or a third party, or inflicting damages on a third party;
- (iii) Users actively cooperate and are involved with the maintenance or operation of any organized crime group by providing funding to any organized crime group or its members or by affording benefit to them;
- (iv) Users keep socially condemnable relationships with an organized crime group or its members while knowing that the group or person is such.

2 The Institute shall not be required to provide any compensation for damages incurred by Users as a result of the termination of ABCI Service according to the preceding clause.

3 Users shall provide compensation for damages incurred by the Institute in case that the Institute terminates the provision of service according to clause 1.

4 In case that the said Users do not pay compensation specified in the preceding clause by the due date, they shall pay to a claimant a late charge on the unpaid balance of such amount at 5% per annum for the period from the due date to the date that the payment is actually made.

5 In case that the Institute receives unreasonable demands or such injustice intervention (hereinafter referred to as "injustice intervention") as obstruction of business by anti-social forces like organized crime groups, its members, or related persons, the Institute shall reject and immediately report such demands to the Supervisory User, as well as the police, and provide any support for investigation requested by the police.

(Treatment at Termination of Service Provision)

Article 35 In case of termination of ABCI Service, the Institute shall delete the entire Data of Users stored in their Group or Home Area (except for their registration data), when six months elapses after termination.

2 The Institute shall further store said data for a period accepted by the Institute after the termination of service when the Supervisory User requests the preservation of data in the preceding clause in advance. Such a period shall be notified by the Institute to the Supervisory User.

(Method of Notification)

Article 36 Any notice from the Institute to Users shall be sent by way of e-mail, electronic files, including PDF and the like, or in written form to the e-mail address described in the Application Form or a contact prescribed by Users on the Application Form, unless otherwise noticed in these terms.

2 In case that the Institute gives notice to Users by means described in the preceding clause, even though said notice is not received by Users, it shall be deemed to have been received accordingly. The Institute shall not bear any liabilities for damages incurred to Users due to undelivered notices.

3 The Institute may commission notification described in the preceding clause to an outsourcer, and Users shall approve it.

(Change of Terms)

Article 37 In the event of change of terms, changes shall apply to existing ABCI Service, unless otherwise noted in these terms.

2 In the event of change of this agreement, the Institute shall use the method that the Institute deems appropriate and shall notify the change of these terms and conditions, the content of the changed terms and the effective date, etc. to the User Entity or the User Administrator up to 30 days prior to the change to be effective. Details of the change are displayed on the Institute's website (<https://abci.ai/>).

(Governing Law)

Article 38 The terms and use of ABCI Service shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Japan.

(Jurisdiction)

Article 39 The Institute and Users agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Tokyo District Court of Japan in the first instance in respect to all controversies arising from the terms and use of ABCI Service.

Supplementary Provision

Supplementary Provision (Partial Amendment)
